BID PACKAGE SPECIFICATIONS

1.0 Project Overview and Scope

1.1 Purpose

This RFP seeks one or more vendors to (1) identify locations for, design, and construct new small-scale food scrap drop-off or processing sites in Providence and/or (2) repair existing small- or medium-scale drop-off or processing sites to ensure they are adequately maintained and/or (3) make improvements expanding the capacity of existing drop-off or processing sites to accommodate demonstrated demand.

1.2 Background Information

The City of Providence's Sustainability Department (Department) was recently awarded a USDA Compost and Food Waste Reduction cooperative agreement to increase food scrap diversion in the city. This RFP is aimed at implementing the food scrap drop-off site expansion program identified in the Department's application.

The Department has worked to reduce food waste since its establishment in 2012. This RFP builds on a series of community engagement and planning efforts. In 2019, the Department completed the Climate Justice Plan, which gained national attention for its efforts to partner with underserved communities and center racial justice. The plan includes a chapter on building a regenerative economy with a focus on eliminating food waste. In 2021, the Department and community partners developed a residential composting plan (compost plan) that provides recommendations for diverting food waste. Among other topics, the plan details the state of food scrap drop-off sites – referred to as community composting sites - in Providence and recommends expanding access to community composting throughout the city. This RFP addresses the following goals identified in the compost plan:

1. Keep materials local: Process waste as close to its origin as possible.
2. Promote community composting: Use drop-off sites to reduce emissions from transportation and increase system efficiency.
3. Close the loop: When possible, return compost to local soils.
4. Center Equity: Ensure programs do not disproportionately burden frontline communities.
5. Prioritize composting over anaerobic digestion, to the extent possible.

This RFP also addresses the following strategies recommended by the compost plan: (1) offer free community composting throughout the City, (2) advocate for additional composting facilities across the state.

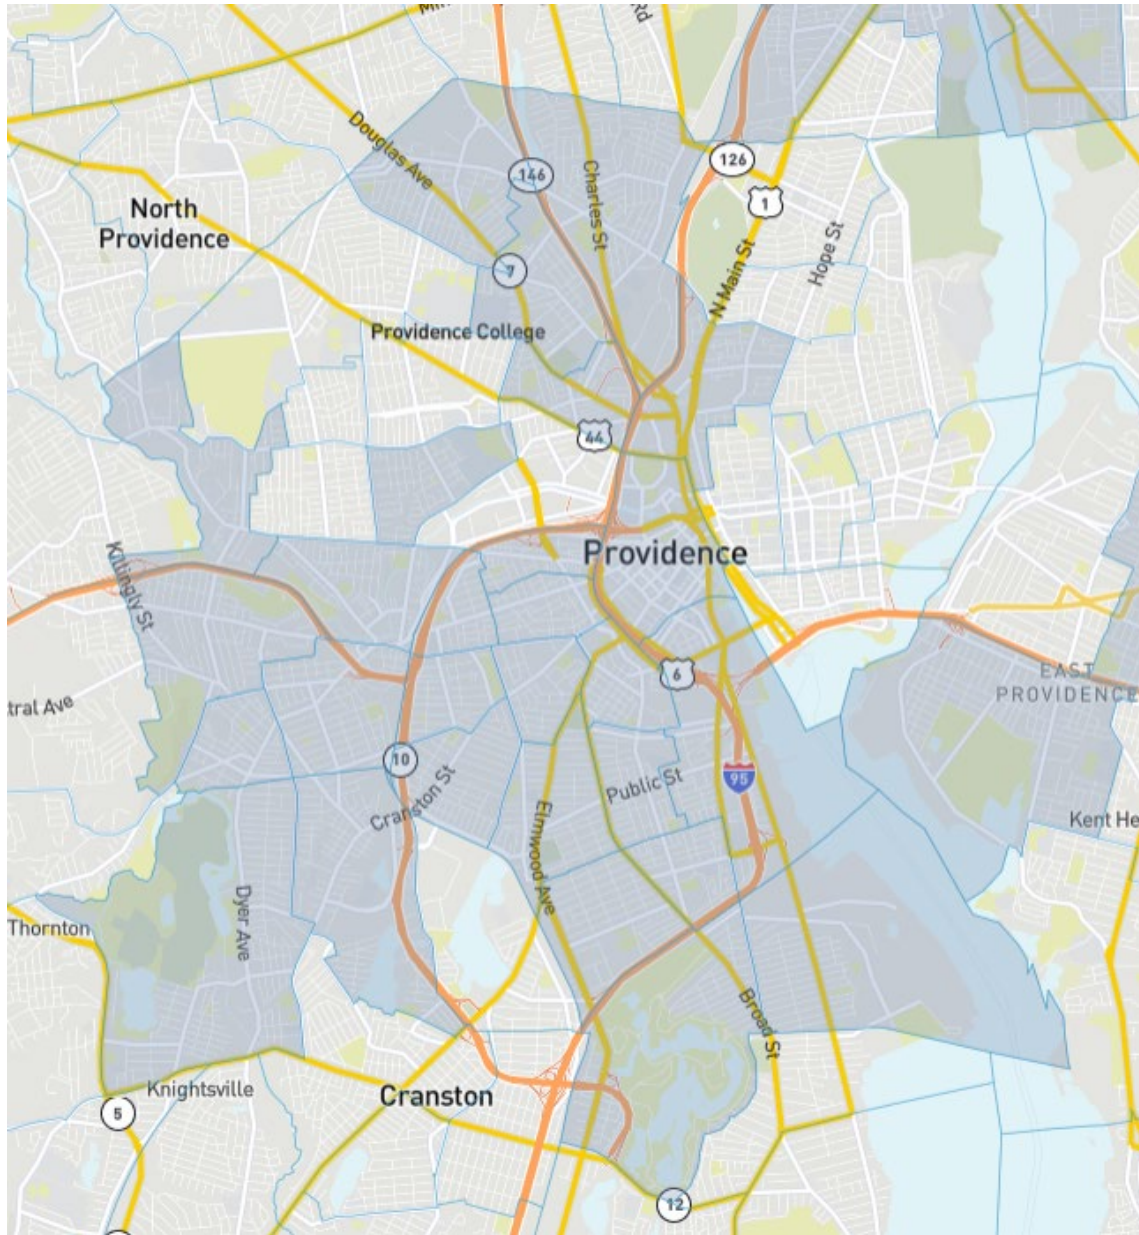

While the Climate Justice Plan has set a goal of diverting all food waste from the landfill by 2040, the City does not currently have the capacity to implement a municipal residential collection program. Instead, in the near term, the City intends to divert residential food waste by partnering with existing local organizations and businesses focused on food waste diversion and composting.

1.3 Equity

Many of Providence's census tracts are identified as "disadvantaged" by the Federal Government's Climate and Economic Justice Screening Tool and correspond with the communities the Department focuses much of its work on. These diverse communities are on the frontline of the climate crisis and are disproportionately impacted by health and economic disparities. As such, investment will be directed such that at least half of the new or improved drop-off locations will be located within underserved neighborhoods. A map of Disadvantaged Areas (shaded gray) as identified by the CEJST is included below:

BOARD OF CONTRACT AND SUPPLY
CITY OF PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

1.4 Scope of Work

This RFP seeks one or more vendors to (1) identify locations for, design, and construct new small-scale food scrap drop-off or processing sites in Providence and/or (2) repair existing small- or medium-scale drop-off or processing sites to ensure they are adequately maintained and/or (3) make improvements to expand the capacity of existing drop-off or processing sites to accommodate demonstrated demand.

The city hosts more than 10 food waste drop-off and/or processing locations managed by various local entities. The City is interested in repairing and expanding capacity at existing sites and adding sites where no drop-off locations are nearby, especially in underserved neighborhoods.

BOARD OF CONTRACT AND SUPPLY
CITY OF PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

Vendors may bid on any combination of the following scopes:

Scope 1: Identify locations for, design, and construct new food scrap drop off or processing sites.

1. Identify geographic gaps in existing drop-off site network and identify potential sites for new drop-off locations to fill those gaps. These sites may be existing composting sites (e.g. community gardens) that can be improved to act as community composting drop-off sites or entirely new sites. Reach out to offer services to property owner or site manager at each site.
2. Conduct site visit with property owner or site manager at each site to assess existing conditions and identify challenges and opportunities.
3. Develop a plan to improve physical assets at each site for community composting. For existing sites being transitioned to community composting sites, develop a plan to improve operations to ensure the long-term efficacy of the site. For new sites, develop a plan and initiate operations at the site to ensure the long-term efficacy of the site. Plans shall be reviewed by property owner or site manager and the City prior to implementation. Plans shall be revised according to feedback from these stakeholders.
4. Develop and execute a MOU between the City, the site owner, and the site manager to ensure all parties clearly understand the expectations for the improvements and ongoing operations at the site.
5. Procure materials for and assist site manager with constructing improvements at each existing site or procure materials for and construct improvements at each new site.
6. Where an existing composting site is improved to become a community composting drop-off site, provide intensive instruction to the operations team that will be responsible for managing the site. Instruction shall span one year to ensure potential challenges at all stages of the composting process are identified and addressed. Provide ongoing email-based guidance indefinitely following the first year.
7. Provide a summary report on process and outcomes to the City.

Scope 2: Repair existing small- or medium-scale drop-off or processing sites to ensure they are adequately maintained.

1. Identify a drop-off site or drop off sites in need of repair or maintenance.
2. Work with site owner or manager to develop a plan for improvements.
3. Procure materials for and assist site manager with constructing improvements.
4. Where a site receives less than $1,000 of improvements under Scope 2, it shall be exempt from the “Free Service” requirement below.
5. Provide a summary report on process and outcomes to the City.

Scope 3: Make improvements to expand the capacity of existing drop-off or processing sites to accommodate demonstrated demand.

1. Work with site owner or manager to develop a plan for improvements and that considers the ability of the site manager to adequately operate the site given its increased capacity. Plans shall be reviewed by property owner or site manager and the City prior to implementation. Plans shall be revised according to feedback from these stakeholders.
2. Develop and execute a MOU between the City, the site owner, and the site manager to ensure all parties clearly understand the expectations for the improvements and ongoing operations at the site.
3. Procure materials for and assist site manager with constructing improvements at each existing site or procure materials for and construct improvements at each new site.
4. Provide a summary report on process and outcomes to the City.

BOARD OF CONTRACT AND SUPPLY
CITY OF PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

The awarded vendor shall provide semi-annual reports and meet with the City regularly to keep the City abreast of progress.
